A trainee certificate must be obtained by an individual performing backflow assembly maintenance and repair work that is not a certified plumber. The individual must work under the direct supervision of a certified backflow specialty plumber, journeyman plumber or residential specialty plumber one hundred percent of each working day while performing backflow assembly maintenance and repair.

Experience obtained as a backflow assembly maintenance and repair specialty may not be applied toward journeyman or residential specialty plumber certification.

This section to be completed by all applicants regardless of experience.

I hereby certify that the statements on this application are true and accurate to the best of my knowledge (see RCW 18.106 and WAC 296-400A-130 for penalties for false statements or material misrepresentations).

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Washington that the foregoing is true and correct:
